UPGRADES

Before committing your state to a monumental long-term financial obligation ...

...we invite you to make sure you have the right solution at the right price—that you've reviewed all of the alternatives. As you consider installing a web-based product, keep in mind that the real problems to be solved are not graphical user interfaces, rather:

- End-to-End Seamless Workflow—Accomplished by one central database and centrally available data.
- Customization—An individual Project Development solution for the specific needs of your DOT.
- Total Cost of Ownership—No annual fees, no mandatory service contracts, no group development solicitations.

A new web-based Preconstruction solution is not just an upgrade...
... it's a completely new implementation!

If you're considering a new implementation of your PROJECT DEVELOPMENT Preconstruction solution—including all of the associated development, costs, and training—perhaps it's the right time to take a look at a robust, cost effective custom solution that has earned the endorsement of the DOTs that have implemented it.

Please give us a call to have a demonstration of the *i*PD solution at your site—no obligation!
